This performance was directed by me and was presented with the participation of the group Artists Cooperative Athens, the group we founded with the help of Documenta 14 in Athens in February 2017. In the beginning of July 2017, the performance with title 'Embloki', was presented at the squat theater space 'Embros', in Psiri, and right before the end of D14 Public Programs in Athens, at the middle of the same month, a small video from it, was played as example of collaborative work from the group at the presentation of ACA(Artists Cooperative Athens), at the Public Programs of D14. The performance dealt with the friction between a humanitarian philosopher pacifist (who was played by a puppet), and a revolutionary professor political personality in Europe (who was played by a lap top with a digital photo and a recorded voice) emphasizing its parody with the use of these elements.
